

Teachers for our Bilingual Department at Institut Sankt Joseph

Would you like to be part of teaching our brilliant and kind students? And would you like to work in a unique, ambitious, international school community?

We are now hiring new staff for our Bilingual Department in both Primary- and Secondary sections of the school to start August 1st, 2023.

Primary Section

An English native speaker teacher to cover the subjects Maths, English and Science in year 1-3; age group 6-9.

As we are a Danish school with a Danish speaking staff, it is important that the candidate understands Danish.

Secondary Section

A Mathematics teacher and a Science teacher to teach year 7-9; age group 13-16, and prepare the students for both FP9- and Cambridge IGCSE exams at the end of year 9 (9. klasse). The candidate must be bilingual English/Danish.

All teaching staff have extra tasks including working in various planning- and development teams with coworkers. Salary and conditions according to collective agreement.

For all positions we value the following qualities in a candidate

- Commitment and contribution to our learning community
- Excellent pedagogical skills
- Academic mastery in teaching subject
- Strong interpersonal and communication skills
- Solid knowledge of relevant curriculums
- Ability to develop positive relationships

About us

At Institut Sankt Joseph we aim to put the school's educational ideals into practice every day. This means making sure that each child has access to an academically challenging liberal arts education, which is composed of an ambitious and caring school environment that is grounded in professionalism, solidarity and Catholic-humanistic ideals.

On a daily basis, we are a school with positive, engaged and helpful students and staff with a love for learning. We work seriously but take time to unwind and socialize as well.

If you can see yourself working within these frames, we urge you to send us your application, CV, teaching degree diplomas and references.

Interviews: Mid-May 2023
